

I believe the cable companies should be forced to offer a la carte options to their subscribers instead of forcing them to pay disproportionate fees for channels they do not want or watch.