

Stop catering to the cell phone industry. Determination of where cell phone towers are located should be a local decision. It's about time that the government catered to the people, not corporate interests!