

NTIA,

I support the comments filed by WISPA, of which I am a member. <http://bit.ly/7EIWPq>

I would like to add that I strongly believe that the oversight and evaluation of all stimulus projects, including the broadband stimulus, should be funded. I do not argue against disqualifying those such as myself who are participating in grant submissions, but I believe that in order to secure the services of the best of the qualified experts, evaluators and inspectors should be paid.

My detailed comments are here:

One Percent of Stimulus Should Go to Oversight

<http://net-statistics.net/wordpress/2009/10/one-percent-of-stimulus-should-go-to-oversight/>

Alex Goldman,
Internet Knowledge, LLC