Re: GN Docket No. 09-191

January 5, 2010

Dear Chairman Genachowski and Commissioners:

On behalf of Pronto Medical Rentals, Inc., I urge you and the members of the FCC to consider the impact of this proceeding on the emerging tele-medicine industry and those we serve.

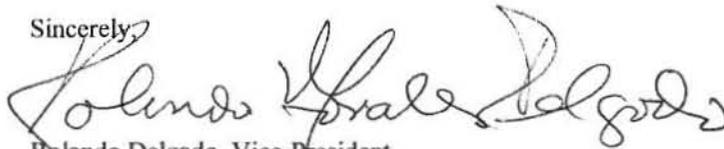

Our business relies on broadband Internet services to reach options, so our patients can order supplies, but most importantly, is to offer medical services our patients. But, we also require robust deployment and fast networks to make it happen. We also are concerned that the Net Neutrality rules could slow or stall this progress and put at risk the potential benefits these new Internet based services can offer.

Pronto Medical Rentals, Inc., Our Goal is to supply safe, easy to use, dependable equipment. While striving to treat every individual as though they were our only customers, with the utmost respect while finding them the best product to fit their individual needs, when life has become complicated by illness or confinement. We are proud to be the provider of the medical equipment and supplies your doctor has prescribed. We remain concerned about the consequences that potential Net Neutrality regulations could have on our customers and our patients.

We should encourage investment in the network so that more, not fewer Americans can benefit from this technological innovation. Please consider policies that balance the need for an open Internet with the serious need for continued, private investment, which delivers broader deployment, faster networks, innovations, jobs and investment.

This Commission has the chance to adopt policies that will bring broadband to new consumers who have not yet experienced its benefits. We hope that the Commission will not counteract the Plan's intended results by placing additional obstacles in the way of 100% broadband access.

Sincerely,

Rolando Delgado, Vice-President
