

Do not, under any circumstances, commodify the Internet. It was created free, i.e., owned by the people of the United States. It is ours. We paid for its development. It must stay ours. Ignore the voices of greed. Listen to the people. You must not destroy a public good to satisfy private greed.