

I urge you to preserve "net neutrality." A few large internet &/or cable companies should not be able to discriminate among users for access to particular web sites or with speed of access. Keep the Internet free for all users, with equal access (and speed) for all.