

The Telecom companies should not be given the right to control the internet or sites that can be seen....they didn't create it and should not be given ownership of it. It is not a stretch to think they will censor or control the information flow, just as is being done in countries like China. Whether it is the government or Corporations, the loss of freedom is the same.