

Letter of Protest: The First Amendment guarantee of free speech has been central to American Life from the day the Bill of Rights was ratified. The freedom of Americans to speak their mind should not be micro-managed in Washington, DC by federal regulation or any other policy. The push for so-called "localism" and enforced "diversity" is dangerous, and completely contrary to American principles. I urge you to use the full influence of your position to oppose restrictions on broadcasters. What has happened to our country? More and more the Government is involved in our lives; making all our decisions for us. I am afraid for what might be happening next!
