

The FCC must keep the internet free of censorship, blocking, and discrimination. Unregulated access to the internet is becoming increasingly important in today's culture. The sharing of information online should not be regulated by for-profit companies like AT&T, Verizon, Comcast, etc.

All data packets are created equal!