

Keep the internet free from blocking, censorship and discrimination. With all of our mainstream media being owned and controlled by big corporations such as AT&T and Comcast, the internet is one of the last venues available to The People for free speech and democracy. The free flow of ideas and information is necessary for everyone, regardless of financial situation, in order to make informed decisions.