

Information is power, and belongs in the hands of the People. That information is not intended to fuel corporate America's lust for power and greed. We already pay considerable monthly access fees to internet service providers, and the People do not need ISPs (or their corporate sponsors) governing their lawful online searches.

Please keep the internet neutral for the benefit of everyone.

Thank you