

Don't take away my current ability to maintain close contact with family and friends through the internet. Don't take away my current ability to seek information critical to my health care.
Don't take away my current ability to seek information on local, national and world news.
Don't take away my current ability to advocate for or against issues that are of importance to me.
Don't take away my current ability to seek information regarding my personal interests: gardening, crafts.

Don't let corporations control (and/or charge for) the information that I now get for free on the internet.

Do do your best to ensure that the internet remains neutral and free.

Thank you.
