

To allow these major corporations to take control, and ultimately censor the web of free ideas and information, would be a great disservice to the American people, and to mankind as a whole. These proven greedy corporate monsters would then be able to charge an absorbient amount for whatever they see as important, as well as spread whatever propaganda they wish, further erodeing our constitutional and civil rights in this country. I urge you to support net nuetrality by not only denying these companies from monopolizing the internet, but by making it the law! Please don't cave to their lobbyists whom I'm certain are trying everything in the book to buy your votes.

Thank you
