

It is very important to me that the internet remain completely free from censorship. Freedom of information is critical to democracy and the internet is such an important tool for communication. The slightest bit of censorship no matter what is being censored is the first step on a very slippery slope.