

Net neutrality is essential to avoid extra- and illegal pretexts for abrogating zones of privacy assumed for decades by American constitutional law. Privacy rights are part of the foundation of our national political economy and its traditions of freedom and productivity.

As a US citizen, taxpayer and net user / customer, I can assure that I would not use the Net if it became a tool for abuse of power despite con law.

Sincerely,

Michael Woodson