

There are many places where we live that I cannot use my cell phone (which I pay $50 a month for) without a signal booster. I'm sure the carriers would love to regulate boosters, screw people further and charge them a higher monthly fee. I purchased a booster and now I can actually use my phone whenever I need to.