

The internet, as it stands, is a force for a true democracy. Or it can become a force for corporate America to dictate it's wishes to the people. It is your decision: do you stand for our democratic way of life or for corporate greed?