

FCC,

Please protect net neutrality as I depend on the internet as an open and independent source of information. It is the last remaining open communications platform where anyone with access and a computer can create and consume online content.

Please allow equality to all who use the internet.

Thank you

Matt