

Freedom to choose what I want to see on-line and who I want to connect with should be my choice and not a company or anyone else that might provide internet service.