

Although the comments below were furnished by a net neutrality advocacy group, I strongly agree with their stand. Big business and big Money influence way too much in our country, then it is big business's goal to develop a stranglehold on information transfer from people unless they, big business, can make money from it. I have been part of lobbying efforts, and I understand what they're doing. It is wrong! Please keep the Internet free from blocking, censorship and discrimination! More than a million Americans have called on Washington to protect Net Neutrality â€” the rule that lets me control my Internet experience.

It's now time for the FCC to respond and enact strong rules to keep the Internet free from blocking, censorship and discrimination.

This is an issue with real consequences for real people. Don't give in to pressure from AT&T, Comcast, Verizon and their lobbyists. Stand with me and other Americans in support of a strong Net Neutrality rule.
