Attachment 1: Statement Concerning Company Procedures

Allcom Telink Corporation ("Allcom") is a pre-paid calling card provider that sells service provided exclusively using printed prepaid calling cards. Allcom does not use CPNI for marketing purposes. Allcom has adopted a confidentiality policy that addresses proper handling and use of CPNI, and has distributed that policy to all of its employees.

Because Allcom Sells service using printed prepaid calling cards, it does not have information that is correlated to a particular individually identifiable subscriber, rather than to an account code that is provided on the calling card itself. Allcom only provides account information, such as card balance, for a particular account code, and does so only over the telephone with a customer that provides the account code. Allcom does not provide call-detail information to the customer. Allcom does not provide any account information online.
