PMT - Customer Proprietary Network Information Policy

CPNI Definition: (A) Information that relates to the quantity, technical configuration, type, destination, location, and amount of use a telecommunications service subscribed to by any customer of a telecommunications carrier, and that is made available to the carrier by the customer solely by virtue of the carrier-customer relationship; and (B) information contained in the bills pertaining to telephone exchange service or telephone toll service received by a customer of a carrier. Practically speaking, CPNI includes information such as the phone numbers called by a customer; the frequency, duration, and timing of such calls; and any services purchased by the consumer, such as call waiting.

As a matter of Policy,

PMT prohibits the release of CPNI to customers during customer initiated telephone contact, unless the customer can be authenticated over the phone, by providing the last four digits of the SS#, provide a password, or provide an answer to a pre established question. When the customer cannot be authenticated, we can offer to call the customer back at the phone number of record or mail the information to the address of record to fulfill the request. The other option the customer has is to come into the store with a valid ID to discuss their request.

PMT does not allow on-line access to account information, unless they establish a pin number.

PMT notifies the customer when the address of record / password is changed.

PMT will notify law enforcement no later than seven days after a reasonable determination of a breach, by sending electronic notification to the United States Secret Service (USSS) and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). PMT will wait until seven business days have passed after the notification of the agencies before notifying the customer. If PMT perceives a need to immediately notify the customer, it may do so after consultation with the investigative agencies.

PMT will review and certify our CPNI policy and activity on an annual basis.

All PMT personnel are trained on the company policy regarding CPNI. Copies of the training information have been maintained in the CPNI manual.

Disciplinary policy is in place and has been communicated to employees.

PMT did not receive any consumer complaints in 2009 regarding the unauthorized release of CPNI.

PMT did not take any action against data brokers in 2009.

PMT has established dedicated business contacts for our business customers.

PMT will not disclose customer CPNI to joint venture partners or independent contractors for the purposes of marketing communications related services, unless we obtain opt-in consent from a customer.
