¹If counting K12 school districts vs. individual buildings, the number would be approximately 13,300 across all 50 states

²These numbers do not include medical group practices, individual healthcare providers (e.g., physician assistants), nursing homes, laboratories, hospice agencies, hospital units, residential treatment facilities, transportation services (e.g., ambulance services - which may have significant overlap with PSAPs). If included, they total approximately 610,172.

³Public Safety Answering Points (PSAPs) - typically located within police and fire departments or ambulance dispatch; few are stand-alone institutions. The FCC Master PSAP Registry file lists a total of 8,241 (1,000+) as being either "orphaned" and no longer taking calls, or "secondary" behind a primary PSAP and, therefore, not to be counted.
