

Before the FCC decided to pursue Net Neutrality protections, Fox News Channel's Glenn Beck warned his audience that the government was "trying to take over the media." Beck later said that Net Neutrality would "wildly affect your life and free speech" by forcing a "Marxist utopia" on the Internet.

The internet needs to simply be left alone. If the FCC wants to protect us from being censored or shut down, that's great, so long as NOTHING is changed that impedes the free, unbiased flow of information.

Glenn Beck seems like he works for the CIA propaganda department. He always tries to lure good people in with sound advice against big government, only to spin it around trying to convince people that we should never question the war on "terror"/freedom or any corrupt government action. Beck is a disinfo artist who only holds back Human progress.

The internet has been vital to Humanity's struggle towards global enlightenment and Peace. People are learning the Truth about various issues at an exponential rate. That is why there are those who want to stop it; they don't want people to learn how the establishment is working hard towards initiating a global, scientific dictatorship, where the people are so dumbed down that they don't even realize they are slaves.

The Truth is out there, and it will indeed set us free. We are at a vital cusp in the evolution of Human Consciousness. The internet is intrinsically intertwined with our growth towards Divinity and true Freedom. It would be very counterproductive, perhaps even selfdestructive, to take away this evolutionary catalyst.
