

The public and the president have expressed overwhelming support for Net Neutrality. The FCC must act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers.

Without vital Net Neutrality protections, the Internet would cease to be a public platform for free speech, equal opportunity, economic growth and innovation. Instead, companies like AT&T, Verizon and Comcast, which have a commercial incentive to limit the free-flowing Web, will decide whose voices are heard.

You still have the power to protect the public interest. Please stand with us and keep the Internet in the hands of the people who use it every day.

If you don't voice your opinion to the FCC, it signals that you don't mind companies like AT&T, who already control and discriminate against certain phone applications at their whim AND throttle back capabilities of cell phones, AND conduct illegal warrantless wiretaps of everyday Americans, dictate every aspect of the internet. THIS IS WHERE YOU CAN SAY ENOUGH IS ENOUGH! TELL the FCC you want NET Neutrality in writing as legislation as guidelines against these greedy bastards!
