

I strongly feel that any attempt to censor the internet, radio or cable TV infringes upon our society's and the individual's right to free speech and would give the impression that the FCC is trying to control the media.