

The arguments made by advocates of so-called net neutrality regulations have been proven false by nearly a decade of experience since their concerns were first raised. The Internet is a remarkable free market success story, and the vast majority of Internet users are not clamoring for regulation. Self-styled consumer groups asking for regulation actually represent an extreme left-wing ideology that is hostile to free-market capitalism and puts its trust in government. That is not the position of the "grassroots" or most American Internet users. I urge you to reject new regulations and allow the free-market Internet to continue flourishing. I love America that's why I live here. I vehemently disagree with liberals but they have a right to say what they want....and so do we, as so does Glenn Beck. Wise up people. If you dont like the freedoms here...go to some other country and fall in line.
