

It is just plain crazy that the FCC is even considering looking at internet regulations under a so called net neutrality "banner" when they are allowing the likes of CNN, MSNBC, CBS , PBS to pawn themselves off as being neutral when, in fact, they constantly are manipulating the "news" to fit THEIR liberal agenda. The Internet is a remarkable free market success story, and the vast majority of Internet users are not clamoring for regulation as they know quite well that information found on the internet runs the gammut from blatant truth to out and out lies. Still, this medium provides a healthy balance to a society and only a socialist/communist style government would think that the availability of the internet poses a threat to their dictorial desires. I urge you to reject new regulations and allow the free-market Internet to continue flourishing.
