

Sirius helps to provide useful information to people when in any natural disaster. For many people it is their only way of getting the information they need to help them. With the allowance of interference with Sirius satellites, those people may not be receiving the important information necessary to help them. Thank you. -Caitlin