RE: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

I am a community leader and former Colorado Springs City Council member. I recognize a company that gives back to the community like Comcast does in our city, and for that reason I am writing to ask you to allow its partnership with NBC Universal to become a reality.

Colorado Springs is a city of 400,000 plus residents and we have a lot of small and big companies that operate here. However, most do not give back to the community the way Comcast does.

For Comcast, providing cable, internet and phone is just the beginning. As a former District Eleven School Board member, I have seen that Colorado Springs libraries and schools receive courtesy broadband service from Comcast, which helps all of our kids get the kind of computer skills they need to make it scholastically and professionally.

The Comcast Foundation gives generously to charities here, including the United Way, which helps everyone. Comcast Cares Day is also a big event, with employees coming in to help at local schools, parks, and community centers.

To survive, Comcast needs to grow like any other business. The partnership with NBC Universal will create a stronger community. I urge you and the FCC to approve this venture. I am certain it will be a good move for this community.

Sincerely,

Mary Ellen McNally
Community Leader
Colorado Springs, Colorado

Commissioner Robert McDowell
