Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski,

I have been following the news covering the proposed joint venture between Comcast and NBC Universal, and I write to you to offer a local opinion on the potential impact of this transaction.

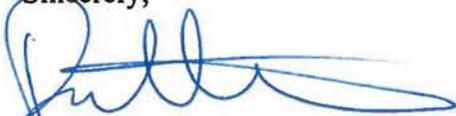

The Urban League of Palm Beach County has worked diligently for the past 35 years to offer programs and services to the underserved in Palm Beach County as well as act as a public policy advocate for their rights. The ULPBC was formed with the purpose of helping disadvantaged minorities to secure economic self-reliance through education, housing and employment. The organization has offered stellar programs in the areas of housing counseling, youth development and education, community development and crime prevention and intervention.

Comcast is one of our signature corporate partners and a supporter of our National Achievers Program, our Equal Opportunity Dinners, and the Urban League's annual golf tournament. Our organization has benefitted from Comcast's efforts to promote digital literacy through social media training and initiatives like the Digital Connectors program. In 2008 the Urban League was the site for Comcast's national day of service, Comcast Cares Day, which brings the community together to improve local infrastructure and help others.

Comcast is not only a partner, but an active member and an advocate for the Urban League. With the full support of her company, Marta Casas-Celaya, a Comcast employee, serves as the Vice Chair on our board of directors.

I hope this information puts a local face on this national company, and helps inform your deliberations over Comcast's proposed transaction with NBC Universal.

Sincerely,

Patrick Franklin
President and CEO
Urban League of Palm Beach County
