

Old Colony YMCA

We build strong kids, strong families, strong communities.

The Honorable Julius Genachowski
Chairman
Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

June 8, 2010

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

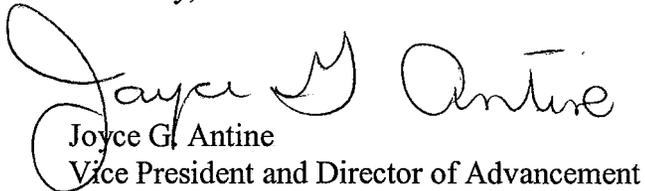

As Vice President and Director of Advancement for the YMCA in Brockton, Massachusetts, I would like to express my organization's support for the joining of Comcast and NBC Universal. Comcast is a longtime partner to our organization, and many others in Massachusetts, that serve as centers of activity for our youth.

Since 1887 the Old Colony YMCA has provided programs and services designed to help people of all ages and abilities build healthy spirits, minds, and bodies. We currently serve more than 100,000 people in 31 communities in southeastern Massachusetts, offering activities that stress positive values, strengthen the family and enhance the quality of life for all community members.

Comcast has been our partner for several years. Over this time, Comcast has supported many of our children's initiatives, including our Youth in Government program. Comcast also supports our teen centers, which are places that teens can go to take part in age-appropriate activities including sports and leadership groups. In 2008, the company made it possible for us to open three new teen centers and Comcast even provides courtesy services so we can offer computer and Internet access at these locations.

Comcast has been wholly supportive of our local mission to serve the youth of the Brockton area. We feel it has earned our support in return and encourage the FCC to allow the Comcast and NBC Universal partnership to take place.

Sincerely,

Joyce G. Antine
Vice President and Director of Advancement

CC: Commissioner Michael J. Copps
Commissioner Robert M. McDowell
Commissioner Mignon Clyburn
Commissioner Meredith Attwell Baker

Old Colony YMCA

We build strong kids, strong families, strong communities.

The Honorable Julius Genachowski
Chairman
Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

June 8, 2010

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

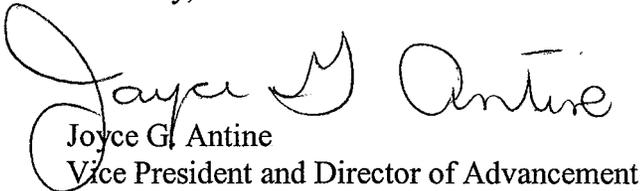

As Vice President and Director of Advancement for the YMCA in Brockton, Massachusetts, I would like to express my organization's support for the joining of Comcast and NBC Universal. Comcast is a longtime partner to our organization, and many others in Massachusetts, that serve as centers of activity for our youth.

Since 1887 the Old Colony YMCA has provided programs and services designed to help people of all ages and abilities build healthy spirits, minds, and bodies. We currently serve more than 100,000 people in 31 communities in southeastern Massachusetts, offering activities that stress positive values, strengthen the family and enhance the quality of life for all community members.

Comcast has been our partner for several years. Over this time, Comcast has supported many of our children's initiatives, including our Youth in Government program. Comcast also supports our teen centers, which are places that teens can go to take part in age-appropriate activities including sports and leadership groups. In 2008, the company made it possible for us to open three new teen centers and Comcast even provides courtesy services so we can offer computer and Internet access at these locations.

Comcast has been wholly supportive of our local mission to serve the youth of the Brockton area. We feel it has earned our support in return and encourage the FCC to allow the Comcast and NBC Universal partnership to take place.

Sincerely,

Joyce G. Antine
Vice President and Director of Advancement

CC: Commissioner Michael J. Copps
Commissioner Robert M. McDowell
Commissioner Mignon Clyburn
Commissioner Meredith Attwell Baker