Re: MB Docket 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

I am writing on behalf of RHI Entertainment, Inc. to express our support for the merger of two of our valued business partners, Comcast Cable Communications, LLC ("Comcast") and NBC Universal, Inc ("NBCU").

RHI is one of the leading producers and distributors of new made-for-television motion pictures, miniseries and other television programming worldwide, and we are the leading provider of new long-form television content in the United States. Our library includes over 1000 titles comprising more than 3500 hours of television programming, including award-winning productions such as Lonesome Dove, Merlin, Gulliver's Travels and many others.

Over the years, we have been fortunate to enjoy a strong relationship with both Comcast and NBCU. In the course of our business relationship, Comcast has repeatedly demonstrated a commitment to providing its subscribers with high-quality, diverse programming through its video-on-demand services ("VOD"). Our experience with Comcast as a partner in its VOD services has been overwhelmingly positive, allowing us to significantly expand the reach of our product and our audience.

NBCU also has been an exemplary business partner. In the past year alone, the NBC Television Network featured two world broadcast premieres of RHI "big event" miniseries -- The Storm and Meteor. SyFy, one of NBCU's cable channels, has been the home of some of our most successful and critically-acclaimed projects, including Tin Man, Alice and Riverworld. Our newest miniseries, The Phantom, had its world broadcast premiere on SyFy just last night.

We appreciate the support that Comcast and NBCU have shown for independent content providers like RHI, and we believe that the merger of these entities will serve only to strengthen our relationship with them and, at the same time, ensure the continued availability of a wide variety of television programming to the public.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.

Sincerely,

Robert Halmi, Jr.
Chief Executive Officer
