

I am in favor of requiring cellular providers to call or text subscribers when their plan minutes are about to be used up.