RE: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

This is a critical time for our economy, our workers, and for the communications industry. That is why I am writing to offer my views on the proposed joint venture between Comcast and NBC Universal.

Comcast is a significant and important employer in our region, and has proven to be an outstanding member of our community. Here in New Jersey, we believe good businesses need to accomplish more than just producing and marketing innovative products. True corporate citizens join with their customers in acts of volunteerism and community involvement. Comcast's annual Comcast Cares Day, for example, lends support to organizations throughout my Legislative District of Gloucester, Cumberland, and Salem Counties, and the entire State of New Jersey for that matter. As someone who is proud to represent this region, I feel fortunate to work closely with a dedicated partner like Comcast.

In a time when my constituents are greatly concerned about job losses and the state of corporate America, I applaud Comcast's willingness to invest in our communities. I hope my experience with this company gives you some idea of how we in New Jersey feel about the proposed joint venture.

Sincerely,

Stephen M. Sweeney

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

I am writing to encourage your support for Comcast's proposal to join with NBC Universal. I have appeared on Comcast's local Newsmakers Program on behalf of Wharton Center for Performing Arts at Michigan State University multiple times in the past several years. I can state, with first-hand knowledge, that Comcast's commitment to local public affairs programming helps drive interest in and support of Wharton Center's programs and attractions.

As a not-for-profit performing arts center located on the campus of a major state university, our mission is to serve as a leader in bolstering the cultural and economic vitality of the community and the state. Wharton Center presents a diverse selection of performing arts experiences with world-renowned artists and newly commissioned works. We provide meaningful, participatory lifelong learning programs both at the Center and throughout the state for audiences of all ages and we strive to ensure that the diversity of our community is reflected on our stage and in our audience.

Comcast's Newsmakers Program helps us achieve all of that and more! The show helps Wharton Center connect with opinion leaders, businesses and other members of our community. I frequently receive comments from community residents about my appearances and the messages I deliver. Newsmakers is a great community service reflecting Comcast's commitment to be a community partner in Greater Lansing.

As public relations manager at Wharton Center I am greatly appreciative of the support Comcast provides. I hope the FCC will keep this in mind and approve this pending proposal.

Sincerely,

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski,

On behalf of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, I am writing to express my strong support for the proposed joint partnership between Comcast-NBC Universal.

The Greater Boston Chamber is a broad-based association representing more than 1,600 businesses of all sizes from virtually every industry and profession in our region. We provide leadership in creating a healthy climate for economic development and job creation. Our chamber is deeply committed to promoting diversity in every aspect of its work, and is present throughout the business, governmental, and civic life of our community. Comcast is an excellent corporate citizen and we are proud to count Comcast among our membership.

Comcast's economic footprint and investment in telecommunications technology is an integral part of the Massachusetts's economy. Our growing IT industries are so significant that our chamber has dedicated an entire section to the high technology companies increasingly positioned to support Greater Boston's economic viability in the 21st century. In addition to its role as industry innovator, Comcast is also a solid state-wide job generator, providing nearly 5,000 positions which offer competitive pay and good benefits.

We have also come to know Comcast for its dedication to corporate citizenship. In addition to its sponsorship of our May 4th annual meeting and dinner, the company has noteworthy philanthropic and employee volunteer programs which enhance Boston's local communities. Comcast supports numerous community organizations, provides free internet and cable service to public institutions like schools and libraries, and has made a special commitment to youth and digital literacy programs designed to narrow, and hopefully eliminate, the digital divide. In 2009, Comcast's charitable investments exceeded $11 million dollars in Massachusetts alone.

The Greater Boston Chamber proudly supports activities that enhance business growth, employment and the overall well-being of our region. The transaction between Comcast and NBC Universal offers new possibilities for the telecommunications industry. I urge you to support this transaction for the potential it offers businesses, consumers and the communities of Greater Boston.

Sincerely,

Paul Guzzi

RE: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski and Commissioners:

I am writing to express my support for the Comcast-NBCU transaction and to encourage the Commission to approve it.

Comcast is a national leader in broadband innovation and has helped cultivate jobs and a state of the art telecommunications infrastructure in New Jersey.

Comcast's continued investment in broadband has benefited our state significantly. It has positioned New Jersey to be at the forefront of today's digital economy and created a burgeoning sector of in-state technology jobs.

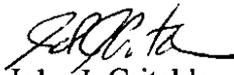

As technology and innovation continue to grow, I understand the importance of companies like Comcast that can create both new jobs and new opportunities.

I grew up a few miles from Menlo Park where Thomas Edison's experiments and innovation grew into an amazing American success story: General Electric Corporation.

In that same spirit of American innovation, I believe this transaction will be good for New Jersey and good for the American economy.

For all of the above reasons, I respectfully support Comcast's request to join with NBCU and respectfully ask the Commission to do the same.

Thank You,

John J. Critchley, Jr.

Dear Chairman Genachowski and Commissioners:

I am writing to you today to offer my support of the Comcast and NBC Universal business deal.

I am a small business owner who has Comcast services at my home and my small business. I am supporting this purchase because I have appreciated the service and attention that Comcast has shown my business in particular. We have challenging technical needs with offices in several locations and employees who work from home, Comcast has always provided dependable service at a excellent price compared to other options. Companies like Comcast have made significant investments in their networks that benefit small business all over the country, I am confident that they will be a good steward of NBC.

Comcast's consistent economic success and investments in the future give me confidence that the company will be a responsible corporate citizen as it grows.

Dear Chairman Genachowski and Commissioners:

I am writing to articulate my support for the Comcast-NBCU venture. Through its community service initiatives and corporate culture, Comcast has demonstrated its commitment to children. As the founder of the James Tatum Foundation for the Arts, I know the value that such commitment brings to the community.

Comcast has been a generous donor to our scholarship program for high school seniors interested in pursuing a college major in one of the fine Arts. At our Annual Scholarship Showcase Program, students perform and demonstrate their talent. We have awarded over $300,000 in scholarships to more than 475 recipients since 1987.

I applaud the initiative that Comcast has always shown to pursue and support children's programs as it has children's programming, and urge you to join me in support of their new direction.

Dear Chairman Genachowski and Commissioners:

I write to express my support for Comcast's request to join with NBCU in the above referenced docket.

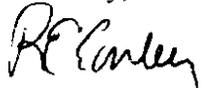

Comcast has been a terrific community partner in Nashua, New Hampshire for years. The company's community investment and employee volunteerism, in my opinion, is exemplary.

It demonstrates the right way for responsible companies to lead in the communities they serve today.

Moreover, as a satisfied customer, I am continually impressed with the company's innovative products and services.

In sum, for the ways they serve my local community, home, and business I believe Comcast should be allowed to partner with NBCU.

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

I have read that you are now reviewing the proposed merger between Comcast and NBC Universal and are accepting written comments from the public. Although I don't have the background or expertise to comment on the more arcane topics of media mergers, I thought I would offer my own experience with Comcast through the Prevent Child Abuse Vermont organization, in the hopes that this story of philanthropy will help add a small detail to what I am certain is an exhaustive review of both companies.

For over 34 years, Prevent Child Abuse Vermont (PCAV) has been working effectively to prevent child abuse and neglect through parent education, support and public awareness. Our mission is to promote and support healthy relationships between children and the people who care for them in order to eliminate child abuse. We focus on ending the generational cycle of abuse, training all who interact with children on proven methods to prevent abuse and neglect, and empowering children to be heard.

In 2008, Comcast joined with the Vermont US Attorney's office, the Vermont Internet Crimes against Children Task Force and the United States Department of Justice Office of Juvenile Justice, Delinquency and Prevention organizations to establish a grant to fund Technicool, a technology safety program that encourages safe online behavior by addressing the risks inherent to powerful new technologies and providing participants with resources to protect themselves. Comcast alone provided a $45,000 grant to PCAV to be paid over a period of three (3) years. Technicool was launched; helping educate Vermont youth and their caregivers about safety issues regarding cyber-bullying and online predators, social networking sites (MySpace and Facebook), email and instant messaging, blogging and chatting, cell phones and text messaging, photo and video sharing, and online gaming.

I hope this letter informs your review of the proposed Comcast/NBCU merger. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski and Commissioners:

Thank you for your service to our country and efforts to modernize the FCC while promoting competition, innovation and investment in broadband services and facilities across the nation. I empathize with the challenges you face. As Michigan's Secretary of State since 2003, my staff and I have worked hard to establish our magnificent state as a great place to work, raise a family and do business by modernizing the way we deliver government services to our constituents. We've employed a variety of initiatives including the incorporation of cutting-edge technology in all of our branch offices.

I am submitting comments for the record and for your consideration today because I believe my insight may be helpful in your review of the proposed joint venture between Comcast and NBC.

It is no secret that Michigan has been hit harder than most states during the ongoing recession. During this challenging period, Comcast is one of the companies that have stood by its commitments to our state. Comcast employs Michigan residents and invests in our communities. An example of this commitment is its annual Comcast Cares Program where thousands of local Comcast employees lend a hand to various local nonprofit organizations across the state. The company also facilitates the education and digital literacy of children and young adults through its partnership with One Economy in Dearborn and supports various Big Brothers Big Sisters programs across the state.

Clearly, Comcast is a valued asset to the state of Michigan as a good corporate citizen and a committed employer. As a public official, Comcast has helped me deliver helpful information to Michigan residents through public service announcements and its Newsmakers program.

To re-build our state, we will need the help of businesses like Comcast that are committed to Michigan's public interests.

Thank you for taking the time to consider my views on this proposed venture. I am hopeful they are helpful to you in your decision-making process.

Sincerely yours,

Terri Lynn Land

I work at a small business in Lansing, Michigan that was created by combining the talents and strengths of staff from two companies to make a stronger and more competitive organization.

I urge you to allow Comcast Corp. and NBC Universal to do the same. These two companies should be allowed to pursue the joint partnership that's been reported on by the media. Customers would win through competition in the marketplace provided by a Comcast-NBC alignment.

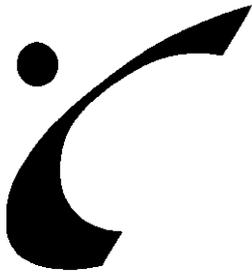

Again, I encourage the Federal Communications Commission to permit the joint venture between Comcast and NBC.

Dear Chairman Genachowski,

As President of the Connecticut Public Broadcasting Network (CPTV), I believe it is important for individuals to be informed and to hear all perspectives on the issues impacting our daily lives. For that reason, I am writing the FCC to voice my organization's support for the joint venture of Comcast and NBC Universal and to describe to you the positive impact Comcast has had on our operations and on the communities we collectively serve.

Comcast has been a loyal friend to public television in Connecticut. The company shares CPTV's passion for excellence in local programming of interest to our 750,000 plus viewers. In particular, Comcast has provided sponsorship of the Connecticut Sports Network. This network is a Connecticut sports enthusiasts dream come true, and provides comprehensive coverage of everything from high school lacrosse to women's college basketball. Our viewers deeply appreciate coverage of the sporting events their sons, daughters, neighbors and friends are involved in and that they cannot find anywhere else. Comcast makes this possible and we are grateful to have a partner that embraces the local community the way that it does.

CPTV is further benefited by Comcast's involvement on our Board of Trustees, Governance and Audit Committees. The expertise and knowledge that Doug Guthrie brings to these bodies make a tremendous difference in how effectively we operate and fulfill our daily mission.

The Connecticut Public Broadcasting Network is honored to have a locally-minded company like Comcast as our partner and truly humbled that it has taken such an active role in helping us achieve success. I hope you will keep this information in mind as you review the Comcast and NBC Universal venture.

Sincerely,

Jerry Franklin

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

In the context of the proposed Comcast-NBCU merger, I am writing to share my views about Comcast's strong and sustained dedication to Detroit, as evidenced by its support for nonprofit organizations such as the Eight Mile Boulevard Association (8MBA).

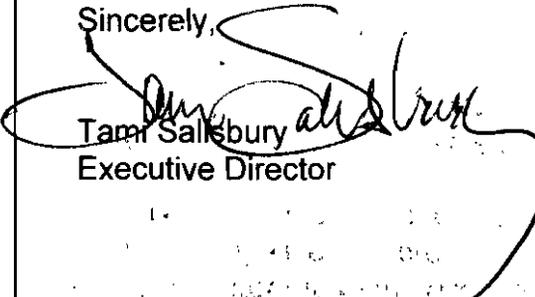

Formed in 1993 by 13 communities and three counties which share a common border in Eight Mile Road between I-94 and I-275, 8MBA works to revitalize and promote this famous corridor as a place to work, live and conduct business.

Comcast not only serves as a member of the association, but as a valuable supporter of our work – through grants from the Comcast Foundation, volunteer "sweat equity" as part of Comcast Cares Day, and broadcasting our annual Leadership Luncheon. Also, Comcast is represented on our Board of Directors.

Equally important is Comcast's service offerings. The company's high-speed Internet infrastructure allows small businesses in the Detroit area to compete in the global marketplace while saving money on communications expenses by bringing real competition to the phone market.

We are appreciative and proud to have a partner like Comcast.

Sincerely,

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

My community of Boxborough, Massachusetts, is proud of its heritage and continues to actively celebrate its contributions to Colonial life and to the events leading to American independence. Support from Comcast helps us sustain these efforts. I am writing to let you know of Comcast's commitment to this community and to support its request to join with NBC Universal.

I am a former captain of the Boxborough District Minutemen Company, which was founded in 1967 for the purpose of perpetuating the memory of the Minutemen of 1775 and to serve the community. Our activities include participating in historical commemorative events, such as the annual reenactment of the April 19, 1775, Minutemen march to the Battle of Concord. We also organize community fund raising and social events, provide support to local schools through scholarships, sponsor community organizations such as the Boy Scouts and provide financial donations to a variety of community projects.

We view our work as simultaneously celebrating our past and strengthening our future, and Comcast's support is crucial to our efforts. We greatly appreciate that a corporation of Comcast's stature and influence cares about what is important to the people of Boxborough.

I am confident that Comcast's local commitment will only be strengthened by the success it can find in a joint venture with NBC Universal.

RE: MB Docket 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

I am writing to ask that you allow two great American companies, NBC Universal and Comcast, to form the joint venture I've been reading about in the media.

Since I moved to East Lansing several years ago, I have relied on Comcast several times for internet and television services, and have been extremely satisfied. I am also a native of Ann Arbor, and was excited to hear about Comcast's support of the Ann Arbor Neutral Zone. The Neutral Zone was an important place for me and my friends during our high school years. I'm thrilled Comcast was able to help the Neutral Zone have a positive impact on other teens in Ann Arbor.

I urge you to allow NBC and Comcast to partner and bring more entertainment options to my area and extend the good corporate citizenship I've witnessed in my hometown.

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

In my city of 40,000 residents, Comcast could be a national company that provides telecommunications services and nothing more, or it could be what it has always been for Jackson, Michigan: a corporate friend who helps improve our quality of life. I am delighted to write to you on Comcast's behalf to urge you to approve its business venture with NBC Universal.

My city has devoted 635 acres to 22 parks that include playgrounds, picnic areas and facilities for basketball, baseball, softball, swimming and other sports. Our city parks also include the Martin Luther King Jr. Community Center, which provides after-school programs, athletic facilities and community meeting space. Comcast partnered with the center to create a new Media Resource Lab recently. This lab features new computers, a computer projection system, and other technology to give students access to a world of information.

In addition, Comcast has promoted the importance of diversity by sponsoring student tables at our annual Martin Luther King Jr. Diversity Breakfast the past several years, and I have had the privilege of appearing on Comcast's local Newsmakers program twice since taking office in December 2009. This is a valuable resource to spread news to my constituents.

All of this may not seem like much on the national stage, but it makes a major difference in the lives of Jackson residents and in creating new possibilities for the future of our youth. We value Comcast's local involvement in addressing our greatest needs and I encourage the FCC to approve its venture with NBC Universal.

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

At the United Way of Pioneer Valley (UWPV) in Massachusetts our mission is to mobilize people and resources to strengthen our communities. UWPV deeply appreciates all Comcast is doing in Hampden, Granby and South Hadley Counties and we support Comcast's proposal to join with NBC Universal.

The UWPV is a local non-profit philanthropic organization that provides resources to address pressing community concerns. We support community services for individuals and families, education and programs focused on helping children and youth achieve their potential, financial education and access services to increase family economic stability, and improving people's health.

Comcast has proven it is more than just a corporate presence in our area, but a member of our community and committed to improving the quality of life here. Comcast has an excellent track record as a local jobs provider as well as a supporter of organizations like ours that work daily to ensure opportunity is available to everyone. In fact, this year Comcast sponsored our Kick-Off Campaign, a very important annual effort that is designed to build awareness and resources for our basic mission.

Comcast seems to truly understand the mission of UWPV and is committed to being a strong corporate partner. We value Comcast's commitment to UWPV and the Pioneer Valley and encourage the FCC to approve its proposal to join with NBC Universal.

RE: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

As you review the new partnership between Comcast and NBCU, I wanted to share with you and your fellow Commissioners the valuable asset that Comcast has been to my community.

Comcast has been a national leader in promoting broadband access and adoption around the country, including in my hometown of Orlando, Florida. As a Commissioner on the Orlando City Council, I frequently work with residents of my community to improve local businesses, schools and civic programs. All of these aspects of my community service are inestimably improved by broadband access. Comcast has provided my community with an invaluable link to research, resources and other tools, which allow us to do our jobs better and faster.

Comcast has also been a leader in community education, teaching new internet users how to get the most out of their online experience. Seniors in my community now are able to keep in touch with their families, businesses can research new vendors or sales outlets, and students travel the world from their home computers. The internet is a critical part of daily life for Americans around the country. Comcast has recognized this and provides not only affordable access, but the type of training programs – like Cable in the Classroom and its new “Digital Connectors” initiative – that we absolutely need.

As you review the benefits of this new partnership, I hope you consider how Comcast has effected the daily lives in average communities like mine. Comcast has demonstrated a commitment to community involvement and forward-thinking technology that we need.

Sincerely,

Daisy W. Lynum

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

On behalf of my organization, Beaches Habitat for Humanity (in Atlantic Beach, Florida) I am writing in support of the partnership of Comcast and NBC Universal. Comcast has been an amazing partner to our organization, sponsoring our youth programs and making them accessible to the broader community.

I am proud to say we are one of the most effective Habitat for Humanity affiliates in the U.S., helping over 200 families realize their dream of home ownership. However, we are more than just a home builder and Comcast has been an important partner in helping us provide the resources to bolster our young people.

For the past three years Comcast has sponsored our after school programs at three Jacksonville-area community centers. These programs not only offer homework help but also provide fitness activities, financial literacy education, book clubs and a mentoring program for middle school and high school students. This effort targets over 60 low-income, at-risk students. Thanks to Comcast's generosity, all the services and programs provided at these centers are free and open to any child in our community. The constructive opportunities provided here make a significant difference in helping young people to make good decisions and choose safe and productive paths in their lives.

As the FCC reviews the Comcast and NBC Universal partnership I wanted to let you know the good work Comcast is doing in Jacksonville. We could not accomplish all we have without Comcast's support and I certainly endorse any opportunity for such a community-minded company to further succeed.

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski,

I am writing in my capacity as Executive Director of the Pennsylvania League of Cities and Municipalities (PLCM) to express my support for the pending deal between Comcast and NBC Universal. PLCM is a nonprofit, nonpartisan association dedicated to improving Pennsylvania local government. Comcast has been an unfailing partner in achieving our mission.

Mr. Chairman, PLCM directly focuses on improving the capacity of our core communities and Comcast shares our values and puts its commitment into action not only by supporting our organization via our Business Leaders Network but also by investing in our community to provide invaluable services, protecting our children and families with the latest parental controls, and keeping us informed about local news and events. Our members have found the Comcast Newsmakers' segments as an especially beneficial communication tool.

Comcast has been extremely supportive of PLCM's efforts. We are proud that Comcast's Brian Jeter is one of two non-elected officials serving a one year term on our board and provides invaluable insight and support.

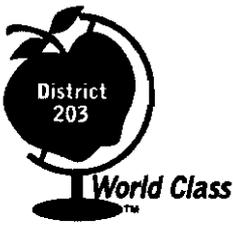

Pennsylvania is also home to Comcast headquarters. The company matters to our state and our municipalities. Please remember this as you review this very important and forward-thinking transaction.

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

As the Director of Community Relations for Naperville Community Unit School District 203 and liaison to the Naperville Education Foundation in Naperville, Illinois, I am writing you to advocate for the partnership proposal to unite Comcast and NBC Universal. I strongly believe that Comcast improves the communities in which it operates and gives the students of Naperville and Lisle, Illinois, increased opportunities for advancement.

The Naperville Education Foundation (NEF) was organized in 1992 to encourage creativity, innovation, and excellence in our schools. The mission of the NEF is to seek financial resources through fund raising and community partnerships to support program goals. We are focused on encouraging creativity, providing opportunities for learners, and assuring that all students have the opportunity to maximize their individual and collective potential.

Comcast is committed to NEF and to Study Skills Academy, an initiative designed to cultivate solid study habits among elementary-level students who need extra help outside of the classroom. Comcast has sponsored this program in all five of Naperville's junior high schools and initiates complimentary cable in the classroom to ensure that our students are prepared for high school and beyond. Comcast's commitment is producing incredible and important results for our young people – and we are deeply appreciative.

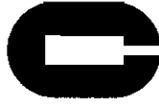

The Naperville Education Foundation is in favor of the joining of Comcast and NBC Universal. I hope the FCC will keep Comcast's Chicago-area commitments in mind when reviewing this transaction.

Sincerely,

RE: MB Docket 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

It is my pleasure to write a letter in support of the Comcast/NBC Universal merger. As a business owner committed to the improvement of our communities, I encourage a merger which will in turn benefit our communities.

Comcast's commitment to the growth and expansion of Telemundo by investing in local markets will secure and generate greater opportunities for the local region. Moreover, it ensures that media outlets like Telemundo O&O markets and stations will benefit in several key ways: diverse, original content, improved distribution and enhanced marketing efforts, and community involvement.

Comcast has publicly committed that Telemundo would remain a free over-the-air television service - as such the Latino community will continue to depend on Telemundo as a non-bias and reliable local source of news. Comcast's commitment to expand its content offerings across multi-platform environment ensures that Spanish language programming will positively serve to foster digital inclusion.

It is my belief that the Comcast/NBC merger will be beneficial for Telemundo, its employees, and its viewers. The merger ensures that Telemundo and its affiliates continue to be successful businesses that will only strengthen their services in the ever-changing media landscape.

Thank you in advance for your time and consideration. If you have any further questions, please don't hesitate to call me at 213/895-0224.

Respectfully,

George L. Pla, President & C.E.O.

RE: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski and Commissioners:

Small businesses face many challenges in today's world. One of our main challenges is to make sure we are constantly keeping up with new technologies, which is why we value Comcast and hope you will join us in our efforts to support the company's union with NBC Universal.

Small businesses are still a vital part of America's economy. We help create jobs and drive innovation, which is why it is essential to equip our small businesses with the most up to date technologies. In Michigan alone, there are roughly 815,000 small businesses and our members represent various industries, such as retailers, manufacturers, restaurants and appliance stores. We have been able to rely on Comcast as a leading provider of broadband services and products that can help us advance our businesses. New broadband technologies have given our businesses the chance to become more efficient and operate faster.

Broadband has become a fundamental need for small businesses in America today. With broadband, we can use new business models, new applications and services that only function with high speed. Comcast, through its cutting edge services, has proven to be a consistent and concerned local partner to small businesses and we trust they will continue to be one after their venture with NBC wins approval.

Thank you,

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

As the recent past president of one of the largest minority-owned companies in the United State, Blackwell Consulting Services and an advisor to an organization dedicated to the advancement of black public leadership nationwide, I have first-hand experience with Comcast's commitment to diversity, and I am writing today in support of Comcast's plans to join with NBC Universal.

My new company, The William Everett Group, is a national, women and minority-owned full service management and information technology consulting firm. We provide strategy, application, enterprise and network and infrastructure solutions to the Global 1000 and middle-market enterprises across various industries. I am responsible for the executive management of day-to-day operations with a specific emphasis on client-facing operations, including sales, marketing and delivery solutions.

I also serve as the corporate advisor to the National Forum for Black Public Administrators, which is the principal and most progressive organization dedicated to the advancement of black public leadership in local and state governments. An independent, nonpartisan and nonprofit organization founded in 1983, NFBPA has established a national reputation for designing and implementing quality leadership development initiatives of unparalleled success. NFBPA's over 2,600 members can be found managing public programs and agencies in more than 350 jurisdictions nationwide.

Comcast shows its commitment to developing African American leadership by taking a leadership role as at the NFBPA Annual Conference. Each year, Comcast's sponsorship allows this conference to take place and attract more than 1,000 African American public officials for an intensive skills-building and professional development program. The conference is recognized throughout the industry as one of the most important training activities available to public administrators. It is widely acclaimed for the intense training opportunities provided and the caliber of national experts featured.

NFBPA Chicago appeared on Comcast Newsmakers to promote the Forum locally to generate participants and supporters. Comcast also recently sponsored the Chicago chapter with a financial donation.

I am confident that a Comcast-NBC venture will bring together two giants in the communications and entertainment industries that are both committed to understanding and assisting the local communities that they serve. I therefore support their union and encourage the FCC to do the same.

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

My name is Karen Hayden. I am the Executive Director of Methuen Community Television in Massachusetts. I support the Comcast-NBC Universal transaction because Comcast has been an outstanding partner and committed advocate for our public access programming.

Methuen Community Television is a local, non-profit television station dedicated to providing residents an opportunity to learn about our city and inform neighbors about issues affecting the community. Comcast has gone above and beyond the call of duty to help our station fulfill that mission. The company was invaluable in supporting us through the permitting process required to cross a State Highway to extend our existing studios. As well, local Comcast executives are currently assisting us with planning and budgeting as we consider a full scale move of our operations. In addition, if we have service or transmission issues, Comcast is always available to help solve the problem.

I can also attest that Comcast takes its commitment to serving our community very seriously. During severe flooding back in 2006, the company once again went above and beyond the call of duty by helping our city establish an Emergency Management Center at City Hall. This was a critical act of corporate citizenship in a time of real need.

RE: MB Docket 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

As you consider the proposed joint venture between Comcast Corporation and NBC Universal, I hope you will think about an experience I had with a local Comcast community program.

Last year, I was involved with a project called the Michigan Mobility and Accessibility Partnership to construct wheelchair ramps for families in need. Many areas in Michigan have long waiting lists for these ramps. Comcast supported this effort both financially and through the dedication of local employee volunteers. I was lucky enough to be able to help build the ramp in Lansing. I can tell you firsthand this program dramatically changed the lives of several families for the better.

I hope you will keep my experience in mind as you consider the impact of a Comcast/NBC partnership.
