

I use the Internet daily to investigate popular and esoteric topics. The Internet must remain a public platform for free speech, equal opportunity, economic growth and innovation. Without vital Net Neutrality protections, companies like Verizon and Comcast, which have a commercial incentive to limit the free-flowing Web, can decide whether I will have a voice online. These companies should not have the power to determine my fate on the Internet.

Please reclassify broadband as a "telecommunications service" and keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers.