

I rely on the Internet as a public platform for my work, information gathering, political activities, entertainment, communication and free speech. Without vital Net Neutrality protections, companies like Verizon and Comcast, which have a commercial incentive to limit the free-flowing Web, can decide whether I will have a voice online. These companies should not have the power to determine my fate on the Internet.

The fox must be stopped from guarding the henhouse, the monopolistic ISP corporations should not be allowed to censor the internet for their own purposes, i.e.: price fixing in their own favor and control of political content /direction of sites, freedom of speech and access to open obtainment of information on the web. Please reclassify broadband as a "telecommunications service" and keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers.
