

Council on American-Islamic Relations

Michigan Chapter

21700 Northwestern Highway, Suite 1199, Southfield, MI 48075

Tel 248.559.2247 Fax 248.559.2250 mi.cair.com

The Honorable Julius Genachowski
Chairman
Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Received & Inspected

JUN 21 2010

FCC Mail Room

June 22, 2010

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

The Council on American-Islamic Relations Michigan (CAIR-MI) supports Comcast and is in favor of its union with NBC Universal. As CAIR-MI's Executive Director, I can speak to Comcast's leadership and commitment to tolerance and diversity here in Michigan and nationwide.

The Council on American-Islamic Relations Michigan is a civil rights and advocacy group that works to represent the Muslim American community fairly. We strive to foster and promote the Islamic lens on a cross-section of American life. To accomplish this, CAIR-MI utilizes educational campaigns, advocacy, and media and governmental relations.

Comcast is committed to promoting multi-cultural perspectives and embraces the diversity and uniqueness of America. For example, Comcast carries the Muslim television network "Bridges TV" which offers balanced local and international news and promotes understanding and tolerance. Comcast also makes diversity a priority throughout its workforce and philanthropic endeavors by championing organizations like CAIR-MI.

More simply, Comcast exemplifies excellence in corporate citizenship. On behalf of the Council on American-Islamic Relations Michigan and the millions of Muslim Americans whose lives we touch, we endorse Comcast and suggest that the FCC approve its proposal to join NBC Universal.

Sincerely,

Dawud Walid, Executive Director
Council on American-Islamic Relations, Michigan Chapter

- CC: Commissioner Michael J. Copps
Commissioner Robert M. McDowell
Commissioner Mignon Clyburn
Commissioner Meredith Attwell Baker

No. of Copies rec'd 0
List ABCDE