Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

On behalf of the Lowcountry Food Bank and the 190,000 South Carolinians without enough to eat that we serve, I want to express to you my support for Comcast. Comcast is a stellar community partner; it has invested significantly in our community and others like it. Because of this, I wholeheartedly endorse the proposed joining of Comcast and NBC Universal.

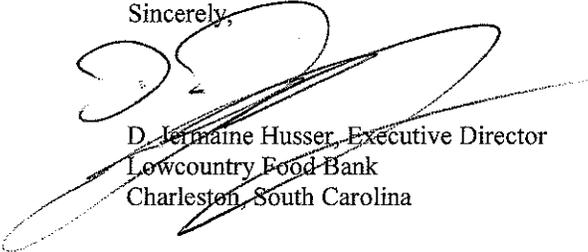

Our mission is to feed the poor and the hungry in the ten coastal counties of South Carolina. The face of hunger in our state is growing younger and more fragile. In the last four years, childhood hunger has increased significantly—32 percent of Lowcountry Food Bank's clients are now children.

Comcast is committed to changing this grim figure. Time and again, Comcast's dedicated have stood by us in our efforts. Most recently on Comcast Cares Day in 2009, over 250 Comcast volunteers worked with our staff to sort food donations that bring healthy, nutritious meals to the hungry children, families and the elderly we serve.

Comcast also acts as a strong community advocate—bringing widespread awareness to important issues like eliminating childhood hunger, promoting digital literacy and supporting community service.

We truly value our partnership with Comcast and consider it among our most loyal allies in the fight against hunger. Please take these views into account as you consider Comcast's efforts to partner with NBC Universal.

Sincerely,

D. Jermaine Husser, Executive Director
Lowcountry Food Bank
Charleston, South Carolina
