

Dear FCC,

It has not escaped the notice of the American People that there is a major propaganda campaign backed by large telecommunications companies and ISP's against Net Neutrality, a principle that would ensure both inalienable human freedoms, such as the rights of free speech, and innovation on the internet. These companies have spent millions already to smear Net Neutrality and much of this money is being poured into congress one way or another. Any secret meetings with these companies are an affront to true Democracy and the American People.

The future of the internet is one of the most important issues for any modern Democracy; when an ISP throttles any internet service or website in favor of their own or partner services or websites, this is an attack on the constitutional and inalienable human right of free speech. Do not let this happen. The methods we use for speech are not only through sound waves or the pen anymore, the constitution must be adapted with the developments of time, but the core spirit of the constitution shall not be taken from us - freedom of speech shall not be abridged or denied and these corporations will do both on a mass scale in the name of profit and power if you let them.

Please side with true Democracy and the American people on such an important issue,

Sebastian

Dear FCC,

It has not escaped the notice of the American People that there is a major propaganda campaign backed by large telecommunications companies and ISP's against Net Neutrality, a principle that would ensure both inalienable human freedoms, such as the rights of free speech, and innovation on the internet. These companies have spent millions already to smear Net Neutrality and much of this money is being poured into congress one way or another. Any secret meetings with these companies are an affront to true Democracy and the American People.

The future of the internet is one of the most important issues for any modern Democracy; when an ISP throttles any internet service or website in favor of their own or partner services or websites, this is an attack on the constitutional and inalienable human right of free speech. Do not let this happen. The methods we use for speech are not only through sound waves or the pen anymore, the constitution must be adapted with the developments of time, but the core spirit of the constitution shall not be taken from us - freedom of speech shall not be abridged or denied and these corporations will do both on a mass scale in the name of profit and power if you let them.

Please side with true Democracy and the American people on such an important issue,

Sebastian