

Google and Verizon are campaigning to end internet neutrality by using Congress. It is imperative that the FCC take action immediately to enact strong internet neutrality rules.