

As a totally blind person, I need speech to work through all levels of all menus on any cell phone. Currently with Verizon that has only one model available of all their various types of phones. Were I to want a Smart Phone, there are 19 choices if I were able-bodied. How equal is that?