

Introduction: I am Bert Dykes. This is my recommendation. Keep in mind tomorrow, I am going to mail the paperwork to a Latino organization which will describe in detail and by example how to piggyback the whole market of A.I. writing to automatically generate more damage to public in legal and illegal drug sells.

Many people, like actors, know of these techniques, but they stay silent, because they have to do what they are told by whoever owns them. As far as I am concerned, they can speak freely on this subject matter without the fear or destiny of any persecution from government or the public.

Section D: General Network Cyber Security Objectives.

Paragraph 20: Updating Software

The software in question should contain "retinal fatigue" scrubbers to detect and to flag sexual acts in popular animation for teens and younger and label the animation as such. The software in question should also contain the ability to flag text and audio from simple artificial intelligence (waterfall lucid dream constructors) to the spine method (where the name and location determines the associations, common "brainwashing", such as in the movie "Sin City"). This software should only flag media that denies such methods.
