

Dear Commissioners,

My name is Mark Uhde, and I am getting increasingly concerned by the chatter I've heard about proposed white space uses. I am worried that this new category of services and devices has the potential to render many, even most, wireless microphone systems useless. These systems are a key part of things every American enjoys - church services, concerts, sporting events, fundraisers, lectures, meetings, etc. These devices have already lost their ability to operate in the 700MHz band, and I believe that their ability to operate effectively in the remaining white spaces needs to be urgently protected by the Commission. It is in the public interest to do, for the sake of business, entertainment, and exercise of religion. Thank you for taking the time to consider my comments!

Sincerely,

Mark Uhde
