

I strongly oppose Comcast's acquisition of NBC Universal Inc. I believe this merger would create an unfair monopoly.

Comcast is currently attempting to control bandwidth usage by its internet subscribers. New technologies such as Netflix, HULU and Google TV and others provide entertainment and news. These emerging services would be placed at a disadvantage should Comcast be allowed to acquire NBC Universal.

Ultimately this merger leaves fewer choices for the consumer. Fewer choices and less competition means artificially inflated prices.

We recognize that the FCC is challenged by emerging technologies in a changing landscape.

It is my greatest hope that the FCC will deny Comcast consent to assign license or transfer control of licensees.

Respectfully,

Mitchell von Poederoyen