

I am blind and use both a cochlear implant and a hearing aid. For listening in a group situation, I use a neck loop.

I would like to see all providers have to make a phone available that would support a conventional neck loop without a microphone. It would simply use the internal mic in the phone mouthpiece.

Having to buy a loop with a microphone or a bluetooth loop/microphone combination is expensive when I already have a neck loop.