Cell phone Big Business has been doing/allowing wrong for a long time.
Who are they to make you sign a 2 year contract to have a phone???
This in itself is wrong, let alone the issues this petition is meant for!

who do get high cell phone bills, they should revolt against their provider, call their providers & talk to them, or wages and busy lives can easily misread weird sentence structure 'accidents'.

Dear FCC, Let us know what our debts are to you before it goes overboard! These rates are ruled and regulated by you, which we have no control over....You add costs here and there that are outrageous and most don't even know what they are

That would be a simple thing to do but they don't want to because they enjoy sending out those high bills because for some reason they need the money. The only way that this will come of age is when everyone just stops using their phones in protest. It

A lot of us are trying to budget, and surprise charges can knock our budget for a loop, and besides that, it is the honest thing for a company to do. I would love for businesses to put the customer first for a change.
Thanks.

It would be easy to let people know when they are near their limits. If our companies cannot do this maybe we should bring the European companies to our shore and work for them here and use their cell phones.

Could you imagine a world where there were varying rates and limits for every utility we use such as electric, gas and water? We wouldn't stand for it because the cell phone "rip off" model of billing is designed to screw the consumer.

The surcharges are ridiculous, and blatant profiteering. it's expensive enough to stay in touch as it is, without these gratuitous charges being added. I would love to have updates, to help my family and i use our plan prudently.

The cellphone companies are already making a high profit off their over priced phones and contracts, they could at least warn us when we're about to go over our limit, I mean we are contributing to their profit-it's the least they could do.

I get to insert my own comments here. This is a form letter I don't entirely agree with. In particular, I don't recall an unexpected bill over $200, have not spent hours with customer service, have not been told I didn't understand this or that.

Parents can only do so much to control our children and we need information to do that. I believe that the cell phone companies could do this simple thing with a little programming changes. Surely we have the technology in this day and age.

i feel that the cell phone company are in it only for the money and not the customer.. how can other companys charge one price for unlimited mins and other give you contracts and a certin amount of mins for a higer price i fell if you are in a contract th

The shock of receiving this unexpected type of bill is terrible. It is what the cell phone carriers want because then you have to pay exorbitant bills for normal service.

This is a common courtesy, and why it was not implemented before astounds me. There are always going to be people who go over their limits anyway, so the cell phone companies have nothing to worry about. They'll still be making millions, and that's more t

I just switched carriers after 19 years with Verizon. Their constant padding of my bill with mystery charges, extra fees and ridiculous billing practices has finally outweighed the convenience of their service, as far as I'm concerned. Consider me -

Cell phone companies are ripping people off. There are so many hidden charges. I have been burned several times but, luckily my contract was near the end so I paid the bill and switched providers. All these hidden unknown charges should be illegal.

Because cell phone rates, like cable rates are outrageous enough and I think that a simple text letting consumers know that they are near their limit is the right thing to do....the cell phone companies are making enough money off of us...
