I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

As one who has experienced "hidden charges" imposed by ATT on my cell phone bill, I heartily support this bill.

Subject : I want notice BEFORE I hit my cellular usage limits!

Federal Communication Commission

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

I got hit with an enormous bill a few months back for minutes over the plan Verizon siad met my needs. Then they wanted me to upgrade...I just got it in May and went over in May/June.

They know how to get ya!

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

30 million is too low. I suspect every cell phone user has been charged excessively and its no accident. The Cell phone company program in their phones to "accidentally dial (speed dial for 411 is#2)" 411 numbers or to access the internet. They know just by "touching" the phone it will generate these numbers and the exorbitant charges that go with them (e.g. $1.99/ 411 call). Virtually every cell phone user has accidentally speed dialed 411 (#2) or accessed the net, often while their phone was in their purse or wallet, racking up the minutes.

Verizon is by far the worst. Their find was only 5% of what it should have been.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

Subject : I want notice BEFORE I hit my cellular usage limits!

Federal Communication Commission

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Cell Phones companies for example sprint shouldn't be allowed to for example remove discounts without notifying a customer first!

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Subject : I want notice BEFORE I hit my cellular usage limits!

Federal Communication Commission

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Subject : I want notice BEFORE I hit my cellular usage limits!

Federal Communication Commission

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Subject : I want notice BEFORE I hit my cellular usage limits!

Federal Communication Commission

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Do, please, pass notice mandating. Life is already too expensive for so many. Any way that its expense can be aided would be appreciated by certainly those who need the financial help, and, I'm sure, those who just stand for the principle of the matter.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Subject : I want notice BEFORE I hit my cellular usage limits!

Federal Communication Commission

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Subject : I want notice BEFORE I hit my cellular usage limits!

Federal Communication Commission

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

Subject : I want notice BEFORE I hit my cellular usage limits!

Federal Communication Commission

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Subject : I want notice BEFORE I hit my cellular usage limits!

Federal Communication Commission

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.

Subject : I want notice BEFORE I hit my cellular usage limits!

Federal Communication Commission

Greetings,,

Cell phone companies should absolutely notify me before I go over my limits on voice, data or text service. That way I can finally get control over my bills and permanently avoid bill shock.

This is a simple solution that puts me in control.

I've gotten bills for hundreds of dollars, spent hours on the phone with customer service, and I never end up satisfied.

It seems that the problem was always my fault. I've been told I didn't understand my plan limits, didn't understand my parental controls, didn't understand the charges associated with a download or an online service. But most of all, I just didn't know when I ran out of minutes.

I'm tired of bill shock, and ready for some real control.
