Re: Broadband Pole Attachments, WC Docket No. 07-245
National Broadband Plan, GN Docket No. 09-51

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On March 23, 2011, Mary McManus of Comcast Corporation and Wes Heppler of Davis Wright Tremaine LLP met with Brad Gillen, Legal Advisor, Wireline to Commissioner Baker. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss Comcast's filings in the above captioned proceedings.

During the meeting, Comcast expressed its support for the telecommunications pole rate formula proposed in the Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (FNPRM). Comcast also supported the FNPRM's conclusion that the proposed new telecommunications pole rate formula is fully consistent with the statutory requirements of Section 224.

We also discussed Comcast's concerns regarding the FNPRM's proposals to revise both the unauthorized attachment and safety violation enforcement standards. Comcast emphasized that the evidence in the record did not support revision of either of these two Commission policies and we pointed to the March 7, 2011 ex parte filing of Progress Energy stating: "Most licensees either construct their facilities in compliance with the NESC and Progress Energy specification in the first instance or timely correct any violations found during post-attachment inspection." In light of this statement and other significant evidence submitted in the FNPRM proceeding, Comcast stressed that the Commission should maintain its current unauthorized attachment and safety violation enforcement policies.

Please contact the undersigned should you have any questions regarding this matter.

Respectfully submitted,

Wesley R. Heppler
