

I believe that this merger would be a great idea. The more resources AT&T has the greater the possibility of faster services provided to more customers.